How would you handle that? Game

Use a penny. Have the child close their eyes and drop it onto the paper. Read the question that the penny lands on and have them tell you what they would do to solve the problem. (Remind them to use kind words and to stay calm)

Someone took your crayon	You got the smallest piece of cake	You built a tower and someone knocked it over.	Your friend took your toy and won't give it back
You want to color and your friend wants to build.	Your friend is not following the rules of the game.	Someone skipped in front of you in line	Your friend blamed you for something they did
Your friend won't let you join their game	You spilled juice on your friends drawing	Someone took your toy without asking	Someone pushed you
Someone said, "You can't play with us!" and it hurt your feelings	Your friend said something that hurt your feelings	You came in last	You both want the same crayon
Your friend calls you a mean name	You brought a toy from home and someone took it	Your friend got mad because you are winning and they destroyed the game	Your friend started coloring on your drawing without asking first
